Mr. Ankur Aggarwal

Founder & Chairman
BNW Developments
Winner of

GLOBAL
AWARDS
DUBAI

in the category of
Global Visionary of the Year

Every self-made empire has a lesser-known beginning. For Ankur Aggarwal, it all started with numbers, discipline, and the uncommon courage to take risks. A Chartered Accountant by profession, his journey did not unfold in glass-walled boardrooms, but in a 135 sq ft office where ambition was the only currency that mattered. From modest beginnings in Delhi to establishing his first consulting venture in the UAE, his risk-taking abilities and midnight hustles started paying off.

Over time, his precision in real estate began to scale, and the consultancy became an empire. Today, as Chairman and Founder of BNW Developments, Ankur leads one of the region's most expansive luxury real estate platforms, with AED 32 billion in Gross Development Value, a 500+ strong team, and a presence across the UAE, India, the UK, the USA, and Russia.

Yet his defining strength lies beyond numbers. Ankur's leadership still revolves around financial discipline, long-term thinking, and an ability to balance ambition with reflection.

2025: LEADERSHIP IN MOTION

If there was a single word that defined Ankur Aggarwal's 2025, it was intent. While the year unfolded at a remarkable pace, nothing about it felt rushed. The groundbreaking of Aqua Arc on Al Marjan Island set the tone for the year ahead. Backed by a multi-billion-dirham partnership with MAN Construction, a subsidiary of the Masah Group, the project reflected Ankur's insistence on scale supported by quality and integrity.

It became the philosophy behind how BNW would build. As the months progressed, a series of launches followed across Ras Al Khaimah and Dubai. Aqua Maya, La Perla, Pelagia, Aquino, Orvessa, Esplora, FashionTV Acacia, Taj Wellington Mews, Ramada Residences, and Tonino Lamborghini Residences each reinforced Ankur's long-held belief that the UAE rewards patience, foresight, and credibility.

BRANDED RESIDENCES & STRATEGIC ALIGNMENT

2025 also marked a defining inflection point in Ankur's journey, the year BNW stepped decisively into branded residences. The signing of Taj Wellington Mews on Al Marjan Island, with IHCL, stood as a defining moment, followed by BNW being recognised as the largest private developer in RAK by Al Marjan CEO, Abdulla Al Abdouli.

From there, collaborations expanded naturally. FashionTV Acacia, Ramada Residences with Wyndham Hotels & Resorts, a second partnership with IHCL and a historic project with Tonino Lamborghini followed.

BNW also built strategic alliances, including Geminox to support the Make In India initiative, Enlightened Minds Investments, China Railway No. 4 Engineering Group, Al Masar Investments, Nisus Finance (NiFCO Dubai), LockThreat, and Octave Holdings & Investments, partnerships chosen to ensure ambition is always matched with execution.

RECOGNITION AS A CONSEQUENCE

Awards followed in 2025, but never as an objective. Under Ankur Aggarwal's leadership, BNW Developments was recognised across global, regional, and institutional platforms, featured in The Times of India for Growth Drivers of the Nation, certified as a Great Place to Work, and honoured at the Arabian Property Awards, International Property Awards (for Aqua Arc), Luxury Lifestyle Awards, and The Ultimate Realty Awards 2025. The firm was further awarded Rising Developer of the Year at both the Pillars of Real Estate Awards and Construction Week Middle East 2025, received the Dubai Police Academy Honour, earned a Highly Commended distinction for Taj Wellington Mews, and culminated the year with Real Estate Developer of the Year at the Entrepreneur Leadership Awards 2025.

Individually, Ankur's leadership continued to receive wide-ranging recognition across global platforms. Alongside being honoured with the Icons of the UAE Award for the third consecutive year, he was named Visionary of the Year by Pillars of Real Estate Awards and Construction Business News Middle East, recognised as Visionary Leader of the Year by Gulf Business, and was conferred the Global Icon Award in the real estate category.

His influence extended beyond awards into thought leadership and public discourse, from being featured in Forbes India alongside his brother and partner, Dr. Vivek Anand Oberoi, to receiving the Exemplary Industry Leadership Award, the Pravasi Samman Award by RBPG, and inclusion in The 100 by Entrepreneur Middle East.

THE POWER OF COMMUNITY

One of the most visible shifts in 2025 was the expansion of BNW's broker community. Under Ankur's stewardship, this network grew rapidly, not as a sales channel alone, but as an extension of BNW's values. Trust, once earned, began to travel, across markets, conversations, and geographies.

Beyond commercial milestones, Ankur ensured that BNW remained deeply rooted in human connection. Events such as the Suhoor Night, the Mata ki Chowki at Dubai World Trade Centre, the BNW Legends Cup with Chris Gayle and Shikhar Dhawan as Guests of Honour and BNW's long-standing friend S. Sreesanth, were expressions of balance between ambition and gratitude, performance and pause.

The year culminated in BNW Diwali Dhamaka, welcoming over 3,000 guests, one of the largest celebrations of its kind in the UAE.

In a year defined by momentum, these realities anchored BNW to something enduring, the understanding that institutions scale fastest when relationships first deepen.

A GLOBAL CHAPTER

2025 was also the year Ankur felt BNW transition from regional strength to global presence. Travel across Singapore, Russia, the United States, and Australia was not expansionist theatre, but strategic listening, understanding capital flows, investor psychology, and institutional expectations.

The affiliation with Octave Investments & Holdings expanded BNW's global investment ecosystem, while partnerships such as Enlightened Minds Investments strengthened the firm's institutional architecture. Each move reflected Ankur's conviction that longevity is built as much on governance as on growth.

THOUGHT LEADERSHIP AND DIALOGUE

Thought leadership remained personal to Ankur in 2025. He delivered keynote addresses across ICAI chapters in the UAE, Oman, and Doha, returning often to the professional fraternity that shaped his foundation as a Chartered Accountant. He was invited to share his perspective at the India Today Conclave in Moscow, where, amid discussions surrounding President Putin's visit to India, he reflected on the evolving India-Russia relationship and its broader economic implications. His dialogues also extended into new-age digital interactions, with notable voices such as Ranveer Allahbadia, Raj Shamani, Rannvijay Singha, Siddharth Kannan, Kamiya Jani, Vivek Bindra, and Prakhar Gupta.

Across every stage and conversation, Ankur's thought leadership reflected conviction built through lived experience rather than theory.

TRANSPARENCY & GROUND TRUTH

In 2025, communication became central to Ankur's leadership. Initiatives like Built Different, BNW's on-ground walkthrough series, and the launch of BNW Mortgages were not campaigns, but systems, designed to build credibility, facilitate ease, and bring investors closer to the reality of progress. Site visits evolved into rituals of accountability, where timelines, quality, and intent were visible rather than promised. Together, these efforts reflected Ankur's belief that trust is not claimed through words but earned through access, clarity, and consistency.

A MOMENT THAT DEFINED THE YEAR

Among many milestones, the launch of Tonino Lamborghini Residences at a completely packed Coca-Cola Arena stood apart. For Ankur, it marked the convergence of legacy, leadership, and execution, unfolding on a global stage.

Under his guidance, BNW Developments' ambition grew more precise. Vision became more grounded and the shared conviction of those building alongside him strengthened. This clarity carried into his year-end address, where Ankur spoke with candour, connected directly with the team, outlined the road ahead, and recognised excellence by rewarding branded apartments in RAK Central to the top three sales performers.

For another year, Ankur's approach was rooted in people, acknowledging contribution, rewarding trust, and leading with presence.

At the heart of BNW's 2025 stood his measured judgment and deep commitment, setting the direction for everything that followed.

DUBAI

in the category of Businessman of the Year

Dr. Harish Kumarlal Tahiliani, an emperor of Spices of pulses in UAE, is the Managing Director of Arab India Spices L.L.C which owns leading flagship brand 777. Nestled in the heart of Ajman's industrial area, the company is home to the Middle East's largest processing plant for beans and peas, nuts, pulses, rice, seeds, spice powder, whole spices, and other F&B products. Seated in the crux of empire, the modest and affable Dr. Harish Kumarlal Tahiliani has a very simple business fundamental that led to his enormous success. He has also been recognised in the list of Top Indian Leaders in the Arab World in 2015, 2016 & 2018 by Forbes Middle East for the soaring success of Arab & India Spices. Dr. Tahiliani is a global leader in the pulses and spice industry from the UAE whose journey to greatness is nothing short of an inspiration. It is an honour felicitating him with Global Business Icon Award in the category of 'Businessman of the Year'.

Arab India Spices L.L.C

The scent of a myriad of spices is hard to miss while walking through the enormous spice and pulses processing factory of Arab India Spices LLC. Established in 1986, Arab India Spices LLC is a pioneer of the ever-increasing global agriculture trade. Shortly after its inception two decades ago, the company became one of the first millers that catered to the entire Middle East with a wide variety of high-quality pulses and ground spices. Starting out with a daily production output of 5 metric tonnes per day, the company bolstered its wings and today, the processing plant in Ajman has a production output of 1250 metric tonnes per day. However, things weren't always easy for the businessman. Here is the story of his humble beginnings.

Dr. Tahiliani's journey to greatness:

Dr. Tahiliani explains that, "We had a humble start; a group of family members got together to open a small grinding mill in 1947 in India". "Several generations of our family have been into the business of processing and trading pulses and spices. However, our venture into the Middle East started when my father Kumar Lal Megharaj Tahiliani, who arrived at the UAE to check if the business had any potential," he adds. The Indian company was re-established as Arab India Spices in the year 1986 in a 400 square feet facility in Sharjah with 4 people and the company mainly imported spices from India. He remembers his father importing unprocessed moong dal (mung bean) and several containers of spices, processing, packaging, and then distributing it to local markets. Dr. Tahiliani was pulled into the family business at the age of 22.

Arab India Spices today:

The company has grown from strength to strength and today it is an empire of spices and pulses, being one of the largest importers in the Middle East sourcing raw pulses from most of the major pulses producing countries like Myanmar, Australia, Canada, USA, China, UK, and India. "Our company mainly produces masoor dal (red-split lentils), chana dal (baby chickpeas), moong dal, urad dal (black gram) and toor dal (pigeon pea)," Dr. Tahiliani adds. The spices are mainly procured from India, China, Sri Lanka and Vietnam and spices and pulses imported from various countries are packed and sold in the UAE and other countries. Arab India Spices L.L.C has brands namely 777, Ameera and Nallari. These products are re-exported to various countries from Ajman and the company does contract production for various global brands as well.

Great achievements:

The achievement came in 2016, when the company opened the World's Second largest food production facility in Ajman. At the time of its launch, the empire of spices eyed an annual turnover of AED 1 billion starting from 2005 in Sharjah and later with the expansion of its production facility in Ajman, which now spans over 400,000 square feet. The entire factory premises of AIS now covers an area of over 400,000 square feet, where the production plant has the annual capacity to process 450,000 tons of lentils. Speaking about his future plans, Harish revealed that he plans on bringing massive Indian F&B consumer brands into the region.

Dr. Harish also had the foresight of creating the best in class facility and integrated services and hence he constructed the region's largest SILO, with a 52,000 MT capacity. In 2018, as part of a forward integration and diversification project, Dr. Harish established 7 Harvest, the retail arm of the company. Under this division, we operate two brands, RK and Soorya. Over time, these brands have captured substantial market share and are now positioned for global expansion.

Managing Director
Sanya Enterprises
Winner of

AWARDS
in the category of
Leading Makhana Producer & Exporter

Mr. Lav Keshri aka Bablu, a driven young entrepreneur with sharp business acumen, is the Managing Director of Sanya Enterprises. The company deals in premium quality fox nuts (makhana) under the brand name 'Rajbhog', a name synonymous with purity. Based in Purnia, Bihar, the heartland of Makhana production, they take immense pride in being one of India's leading manufacturers and exporters of premium-quality Makhana, known for its rich nutritional value and versatile applications. The company is a trusted name in Makhana industry since 1970 and now has expanded beyond borders to become a global leader in Makhana exports. Mr. Keshri is determined to provide finest Makhana to Indian households with his sheer hardwork. He took the company to new heights with his astuteness and entrepreneurial mindset and further aims to make 'Rajbhog' a global brand in the makhana industry. It is an honour felicitating him with Global Business Icon Award in the category of 'Leading Makhana Producer & Exporter'.

Sanya Enterprises

Bihar's makhana (fox nuts) has today established a distinct identity in global markets and among consumers worldwide. Experts also consider makhana to be the most significant nut enriched with calcium and iron. Mr. Lav Keshri (Bablu), Managing Director of Sanya Enterprises explains, "Around 60 years ago, only a handful of people knew about makhana, and its production and consumption were very limited. Our father, Shri Ram Kumar Kesarwani, encouraged farmers in Purnia and nearby regions of North-East Bihar to cultivate makhana by motivating them to sow its seeds. He personally went from village to village, provided seeds to producers, and assured them that whatever yield they produced would be purchased." In those days, makhana produced in Purnia, Darbhanga, Gulabghat, Samastipur, Kadh Gola, as well as in West Bengal regions such as Harishchandrapur, Gerabari, Malda, and Dalkhola—about 90 percent of the raw "gudiya" (makhana seeds)—was purchased and training was provided on how to process and pop it. Gradually, over a span of 60–62 years, the fox nut business grew steadily into a major trade and production industry. During that earlier period, India produced only about 2-2.5 lakhs bags of makhana. Today, production has increased to about 25–30 million bags of ready makhana. Of this, around 37–38 percent is used in snacks and is exported to the USA, Brazil, Indonesia, China, Ethiopia, London, the UAE (Dubai) and other Gulf countries. About 60 percent of makhana is sold directly from producing markets for export, while the remaining 40 percent is consumed in North Indian markets.

Makhana has now become an international trade commodity, and considering its growing consumption and utility, the government has established a National Makhana Board. At present, gudiya makhana is being cultivated on approximately 16–16.5 lakh hectares of land, providing substantial employment in Bihar and Bengal. Most farmers have now become traders as well. Mr. Keshri further stated that makhana is being packed under nearly 150 brands, through which traders from Bihar and Bengal are doing business domestically and internationally. Currently, Rajbhog Makhana is available in two types of packaging, and along with Dhoom and Lavkush, several of our brands have gained strong acceptance in domestic and national markets due to their exceptional quality. He further adds, "We purchase high-quality raw gudiya, process it carefully and monitor every step up to packaging. This is why our makhana has established a distinct identity in the makhana world. Under our father's guidance, we continue to work on new creations to maintain superior quality. At the last Gulfood exhibition in Dubai, we conducted substantial business, and wherever we have supplied our products, demand has increased before the Gulfood event itself." Over the past five decades, Sanya Enterprises has grown from a small-scale operation into a state-of-the-art manufacturing facility. As a pioneer in the Makhana industry, the company's aim to introduce the world to the benefits of this superfood while maintaining their core values of quality, sustainability, and customer satisfaction.
